TIGER EYE

A radiant quality of light and heat, which fills the stomach and the entire nerve system, is ascribed to the tiger eye. It opens our eyes to the beauty in life, even in the small things. On a physical level, it acts on the cerebellum, the solar-plexus and bones, joints and tendon sheaths. This makes it the preferred healing stone for states such as epilepsy, coma, dementia and strokes; for stomach illnesses, and for problems with the locomotor system, such as rheumatism, Scheuermann's disease and complaints in the spinal column and intervertebral discs.

SODALITH

Sodalith is regarded as opening the gate to freedom, as helping us to look behind the scenes. Its opening-up effect on eyes, ears, breath and throat awakens the courage to also express the truth that we thus recognise. It physically harmonises our glandular system, especially the pituitary gland and hypothalamus. It thus optimises the entire immune system, the hormonal system and our emotional balance.

JASPER

Jasper has the task of keeping us with both feet on the ground, making it the necessary complement to amethyst. It strengthens blood and bones and conveys to us the big "Yes!", with which the Earth welcomes us. It regenerates liver, stomach, spleen and pancreas and thus promotes the healing of digestion problems and all types of eating disorder. Women particularly appreciate its supporting effect in pregnancy, with menstruation problems and in the menopause.

AMETHYST

The amethyst is used as a protection stone. It serves as an antenna for new energy and information from the cosmos and also helps us to make these understandable and convertible for our brain. Its healing effect is felt above all in the region of the head – against headache and migraine, for the relaxation of our understanding in concentration and learning problems, and for the strengthening of the belief that life has a higher purpose.

AVENTURINE

Aventurine is appreciated because of its gently balancing effect on heart, liver and gall bladder. It evokes in us who we really are and helps us to recognise the place in life that belongs to us according to our being. On a physical level, it is regarded as „skin-stone“ and helps us to transport harmful substances out of the blood and lymph. With its „heart-strength“ it soothes shocks and traumas and turns them to inner peace.

FLOWER OF LIFE

The "flower of life" is one of humanity's oldest symbols. It is known in almost all cultures, is a central element of sacred geometry and stands for nothing less than the divine order, in which many circles of equal size form a mathematically exact, harmonious wickerwork with one another. It connects the effectiveness of the 5 stones into a network, so that their forces interact meaningfully like the different organs of a single organism. It is also said to mean that each one of their points of intersection is a point of contact with other universes.

DISCLAIMER

- The WaterStar carafe is a hand-produced quality product. Small bubbles and minor unevenness are a visible sign of handwork and underline the exclusivity of every single example.

- Direct sunlight, incorrect handling and warming above 50 degrees can slightly discolour the cast resin in which the stones and the “flower of life” are embedded. The function of WaterStar is, however, not impaired by this in any way, we thus ask your understanding for the fact that we cannot accept complaints for the stated reasons.

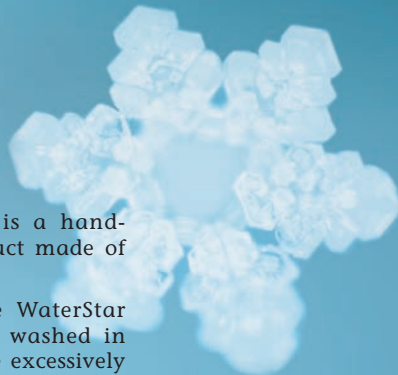

In addition to this, we would also like to expressly point out that the healing effects stated for the individual stones are not pharmacological promises of a cure. These effects are rather fine-energy information spectrums that have been empirically observed over the centuries, and which do not themselves intervene but instead support the body and psyche in their self-healing. We thus accept no liability whatsoever for a particular healing process.

CARE

The WaterStar carafe is a hand-produced quality product made of crystal glass.

- Please note that the WaterStar carafe must NOT be washed in dishwasher due to the excessively high temperatures!
